1. Aims of our anti bullying policy

Manland Primary School is committed to working with staff, pupils and parents and carers to create and maintain a school community where bullying is not tolerated. The school anti-bullying policy has been developed with due regard for our duties and obligations under existing legislation and public sector duties for the safeguarding and wellbeing of all our pupils and we will take all steps to ensure their safety.

The key legislation, government policies and guidance which influence anti-bullying policy and practice are listed in the Appendix 5 of this document.

This policy should be used in conjunction with Safeguarding Policy, Internet Safety (including Anti Cyber bullying) Policy, Equality Policy and Behaviour Policy.

Every child should be able to learn in a school environment free from bullying of any kind and in which they feel safe and supported. There is no place for bullying in our schools and communities and each of us involved in education has a role in creating a culture in schools where bullying is not tolerated. No child deserves to suffer the pain and indignity that bullying can cause. We recognise the negative impact it has on the educational experiences and wider development of so many of our children and young people.' (Safe to Learn, DCSF 2007).

We aim to:

1. Have an ethos, curriculum and environment which supports anti bullying
2. Value diversity
3. Have a consistent approach to anti bullying throughout the school
4. Have an agreement about the strategies we will use to support children subjected to bullying behaviour and for challenging bullying behaviour
5. Be able to articulate the school's approach to preventing and dealing with bullying
6. Minimise the occurrence of bullying in our school
7. Improve children's safety and well-being
8. Change the behaviour of the people/person using bullying behaviours
9. Change the behaviour of witnesses so that they feel able to take the appropriate actions

2. Agreed Principles

- Children's behaviour is underpinned by the stage they have reached in social and emotional development, their behavioural skills and emotional well-being
- Children's social, emotional and behavioural skills underpin the choices they make about bullying behaviour
- Bullying behaviours are made more or less likely by environmental factors
- An ethos in which diversity is valued and celebrated is important in reducing the likelihood of bullying behaviours
- Positive recognition and reinforcement of appropriate behaviour is likely to elicit continued positive behaviour
- Positive relationships with children are key to positive behaviour
- We need to draw on participants' experiences and knowledge
- It is important to have a solution-focused approach

3. Definition and Characteristics of Bullying (as defined by the DCSF, 2007 and DFE, 2014)

The DCSF identifies three characteristics that are included in most definitions:

- The behaviour is intended to cause distress
- The behaviour is repeated
- There is an imbalance of power between the perpetrator/s of bullying and the target/s

“Bullying is behaviour by an individual or group, repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally. Bullying can take many forms (for instance, cyber-bullying via text messages or the internet), and is often motivated by prejudice against particular groups, for example on grounds of race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, or because a child is adopted or has caring responsibilities. It might be motivated by actual differences between children, or perceived differences. Stopping violence and ensuring immediate physical safety is obviously a school’s first priority but emotional bullying can be more damaging than physical; teachers and schools have to make their own judgements about each specific case. Many experts say that bullying involves an imbalance of power between the perpetrator and the target. This could involve perpetrators of bullying having control over the relationship which makes it difficult for those they bully to defend themselves. The imbalance of power can manifest itself in several ways, it may be physical, psychological (knowing what upsets someone), derive from an intellectual imbalance, or by having access to the support of a group, or the capacity to socially isolate. It can result in the intimidation of a person or persons through the threat of violence or by isolating them either physically or online.”

Increasingly cyber bullying is of concern and the DFE explains this is due to “the rapid development of, and widespread access to, technology which has provided a new medium for ‘virtual’ bullying, which can occur in or outside school. Cyber-bullying is a different form of bullying and can happen at all times of the day, with a potentially bigger audience, and more accessories as people forward on content at a click. The wider search powers included in the Education Act 2011 give teachers stronger powers to tackle cyber-bullying by providing a specific power to search for and, if necessary, delete inappropriate images (or files) on electronic devices, including mobile phones.”

DFE: Preventing and tackling bullying Advice for headteachers, staff and governing bodies October 2014

4. Roles and Responsibilities within the school

The Role of the Governors

The Governing Body supports the Head teacher in all attempts to eliminate bullying from our School. This policy statement makes it very clear that the Governing Body does not allow bullying to take place in our School and that any incidents of bullying that do occur are taken very seriously and dealt with appropriately.

The Governing Body monitors the incidents of bullying that occur and reviews the effectiveness of the School Policy regularly. The Governors require the Head teacher and to keep records of all incidents of bullying and report to the Governors (Health and Safety Committee) on request about the effectiveness of School bullying strategies.

The Governing Body responds within ten days to any request from a parent/carer to investigate incidents of bullying. In all cases, the Governing Body notifies the Head teacher and will ask her to conduct an investigation into the case and report back to a representative of the Committee.

The Role of the Head teacher

It is the responsibility of the Head teacher to implement the School anti-bullying strategy and to ensure that all staff (both teaching and support) are aware of the School policy and know how to deal with incidents of bullying. The Head teacher reports to the Governing Body about the effectiveness of the anti-bullying policy. The Head teacher ensures that all children know that all bullying is wrong and that it is unacceptable behaviour in our School. The Head teacher draws the attention of the children to this fact at suitable moments. For example, if an incident occurs, the Head teacher can use an Assembly as a forum in which to discuss with other children why this kind of behaviour is wrong and why a pupil/pupils are being punished.

The Head teacher ensures that all staff receive sufficient training to be equipped to deal with all incidents of bullying. The Head teacher sets the School climate of mutual support and praise for success (Behaviour Policy), so making bullying less likely. When children feel they are important and belong to a friendly, welcoming and caring School, bullying is far less likely to be part of their behaviour.

The Role of Manland staff

Staff in our School take all forms of bullying seriously and intervene to prevent incidents taking place. If staff witness an act of bullying, they do all they can to support the child who is being bullied. If a child is being bullied over a period of time, then after consultation with the Head teacher, the School informs the parents. If, as staff, we become aware of any bullying taking place between members of a class, we deal with the issue immediately. This may involve counselling and support for the victim of the bullying and punishment for the perpetrator. We spend time talking to the child who has bullied. We explain why the action of the child was wrong and we endeavour to help the child change their behaviour in the future. If a child is repeatedly involved in bullying other children, the Head teacher and the Deputy Head teacher are informed. We invite the child's parents into School to discuss the situation. In more extreme cases, for example, where these initial discussions have proven ineffective, the Head teacher and/or Deputy Head teacher, may contact external support agencies.

Staff attempt to support all children in their class and to establish a climate of trust and respect for all. By praising, rewarding and celebrating the success of all children, we aim to prevent incidents of bullying.

The Role of Pupils

Pupils will always be encouraged to report any incidents of bullying behaviour whether they are victims or witnesses.

Pupils are expected to take responsibility for personal behaviour and actions and treat one another with respect and kindness

Pupils who are concerned about any incidents of bullying should report

With the help of staff and parents/carers, pupils should play a part in creating a positive atmosphere for learning within school where bullying is regarded as unacceptable, difference is celebrated and discrimination is actively challenged

The Role of the Parents/Carers

Parents who are concerned that their child might be being bullied, or who suspect that their child may be the perpetrator of bullying, should contact their child's Class Teacher immediately. Parents have a responsibility to support the School's anti-bullying policy and to actively encourage their child to be a positive member of the School.

5. Preventing and Responding to Bullying

The curriculum

A key element of the curriculum is centred upon the prevention of bullying. This work will include:

- Staff talking to pupils about issues of difference; in lessons, through dedicated events or projects, or through assemblies
- Creating an ethos of good behaviour where pupils treat one another and the school staff with respect because they know that this is the right way to behave
- Helping children to develop respect for staff and other pupils
- Helping children to understand the value of education
- Enabling children to understand how our actions affect others and permeate the whole school environment
- Support and guidance for children in terms of social and emotional development

Within the curriculum, a variety of proactive strategies are deployed, including:

- Cooperative group work
- Circle time
- Specific PSHE focused lessons
- Structured curriculum input – e.g. anti-cyber bullying activities
- Cross-curricular 'themed' approaches
- Visiting groups e.g. theatre groups

To ensure that anti bullying strategies are kept to the fore throughout the year we:

- Have a major focus upon anti bullying in the Autumn Term
- Carry through this focus on a ½ termly basis (at least 1 PSHCE lesson) and as an ongoing class matter
- Use assemblies to reinforce school policy
- Are vigilant and take time to listen to what children are telling us

We value diversity by ensuring:

- Assemblies promote and value diversity of cultural belief
- Opportunities are taken within the curriculum to consider lives different to those experienced by children within our school
- The school is highly inclusive and values all members of its community
- We use the links that children have with other parts of the world within our curriculum
- We value the experiences that children bring from minority cultures within the school
- We keep cultural awareness to the fore in our decision making

What happens when bullying occurs?

We recognise that a consistently applied solution based approach to incidents of bullying can be effective in rescuing incidents of bullying in our school and helping our children to feel safe.

Please refer to Appendix 1 for a flowchart for recommended procedures for responding to all alleged or witnessed bullying incidents.

The suitability of a particular method for dealing with incidents of bullying has been discussed at length and we recognise that because of the varied age, maturity and personalities of children within our school; elements of both the ‘Shared Concern’ and the ‘Support Group’ approaches will be useful in tackling incidents of bullying.

These solution based processes are below.

Our solution based approach to incidents of bullying

We take a proactive approach to dealing with incidents of bullying behaviour using a ‘no blame’ approach. ‘No Blame’ does not mean ‘No Responsibility’ – each member of the group takes responsibility for changing their behaviour.

Prior to any work being done with children on specific incidents of bullying some work will need to be undertaken to be sure that an incident of bullying is occurring and the nature of this bullying.

When incidents are occurring, which are not bullying, this should be clarified with the children involved.

When dealing with incidents of bullying, staff will choose (in conjunction with children where appropriate) aspects of one of the methods outlined below.

These methods may be used in other situations; it is therefore imperative that children understand when a matter of bullying is being addressed. It may be necessary to amend these strategies to meet the needs of the situation; however the principles should be maintained. E.g. it may be necessary to check in with the target on a more regular basis.

A) Staff may choose to use the method of shared concern

In this process:

- a. Individual interviews are held with the target, the children doing the bullying and witnesses, lasting 5 minutes each. The aims are:
 - i. to let the children doing the bullying know that the school is aware
 - ii. to gain personal commitment to an action
- b. No blame is attached, and facts are not discussed. The focus is on the feelings of the target
- c. Follow-up individual interviews, lasting 5 minutes each, with the same group to see if progress has been made
- d. Follow-up interview with the target to check that all is well

B) Staff may choose to use the support group method

In this process:

- a. Facilitator talks with target. Focus is target's feelings – they may write/draw something about how they have experienced the bullying behaviour.
- b. A 'group' is formed from those doing the bullying, witnesses and friends of target (6–8).
- c. A meeting is held with 'the group' (not including the target)
- d. Facilitator explains the problem. The target's feelings are recounted (not facts which can be disputed) and their perspective presented
- e. The group is reassured that no-one is in trouble and that everyone has a joint responsibility to help X be safe; the reason for convening the group is to help solve the problem
- f. Group members are asked for their ideas to help
- g. No pressure is put on them – at the end of the meeting the responsibility is placed upon them to solve the problem
- h. After a week the facilitator meets with the target, then with each group member one at a time to find out how things are going, and what they personally have done
- i. Follow-up sessions are held as appropriate

Where appropriate children may have some input into which approach they feel will be most helpful to them

It is recognised that where incidents of bullying occur with very young /less mature children further strategies may need to be sought. The above strategies should be amended to include aspects such as:

- Involving parents/carers in discussions
- Whole class focus upon supporting positive behaviour

6. Reporting and Recording Incidents of Bullying

1. All instances of bullying or suspected bullying should be reported to the Head teacher or Deputy Head teacher and recorded on the form attached in Appendix 2 Initial Investigation into Allegations of Bullying
2. Where there is a racist aspect to the bullying the member of staff reporting the incident should also assist the HT or member of SLT in completing the form in Appendix 3 Integrated Bullying and Racist Incident Record
3. If an incident involves Hate Crime the form in Appendix 4 should be used. Hate Crime/Incident Report (Advice for completing form on The Grid.)
4. In all cases of bullying, consideration should be given to how the parents/carers of children involved will be informed; this applies to the target, the person doing the bullying or a witness.
5. In more extreme cases, the Head Teacher may contact external support agencies such as social services.
6. Summative data will be reported to the Governing Body.

7. Language

- We refer to bullying behaviour rather than ‘bullies’ and ‘bullied’.
- With younger children we may refer to their repeated unacceptable behaviour rather than ‘bullying’ behaviour.
- We use the phrase target rather than victim.

8. Reviewing this policy

This policy should be reviewed every 3 years. Changes should be ratified by the Governing Body.

9. Views of stakeholders

Staff at Manland will be trained in relation to keeping children safe and how to handle incidents of bullying.

Staff will work with children in school to help them understand the content of this policy. Where clarification is needed this will be fed into the policy.

The Head teacher will review any changes to policy.

The Governing Body will ratify any changes to the policy.

This policy will be published on the school website and its publication will be advertised via the school newsletter. Views will be invited. The views of staff and governors will be gathered through usual processes.

10. Impact Assessment

Manland Primary will use a range of information (not just incident reports) to determine levels of bullying and the extent to which children and young people feel safe at school.

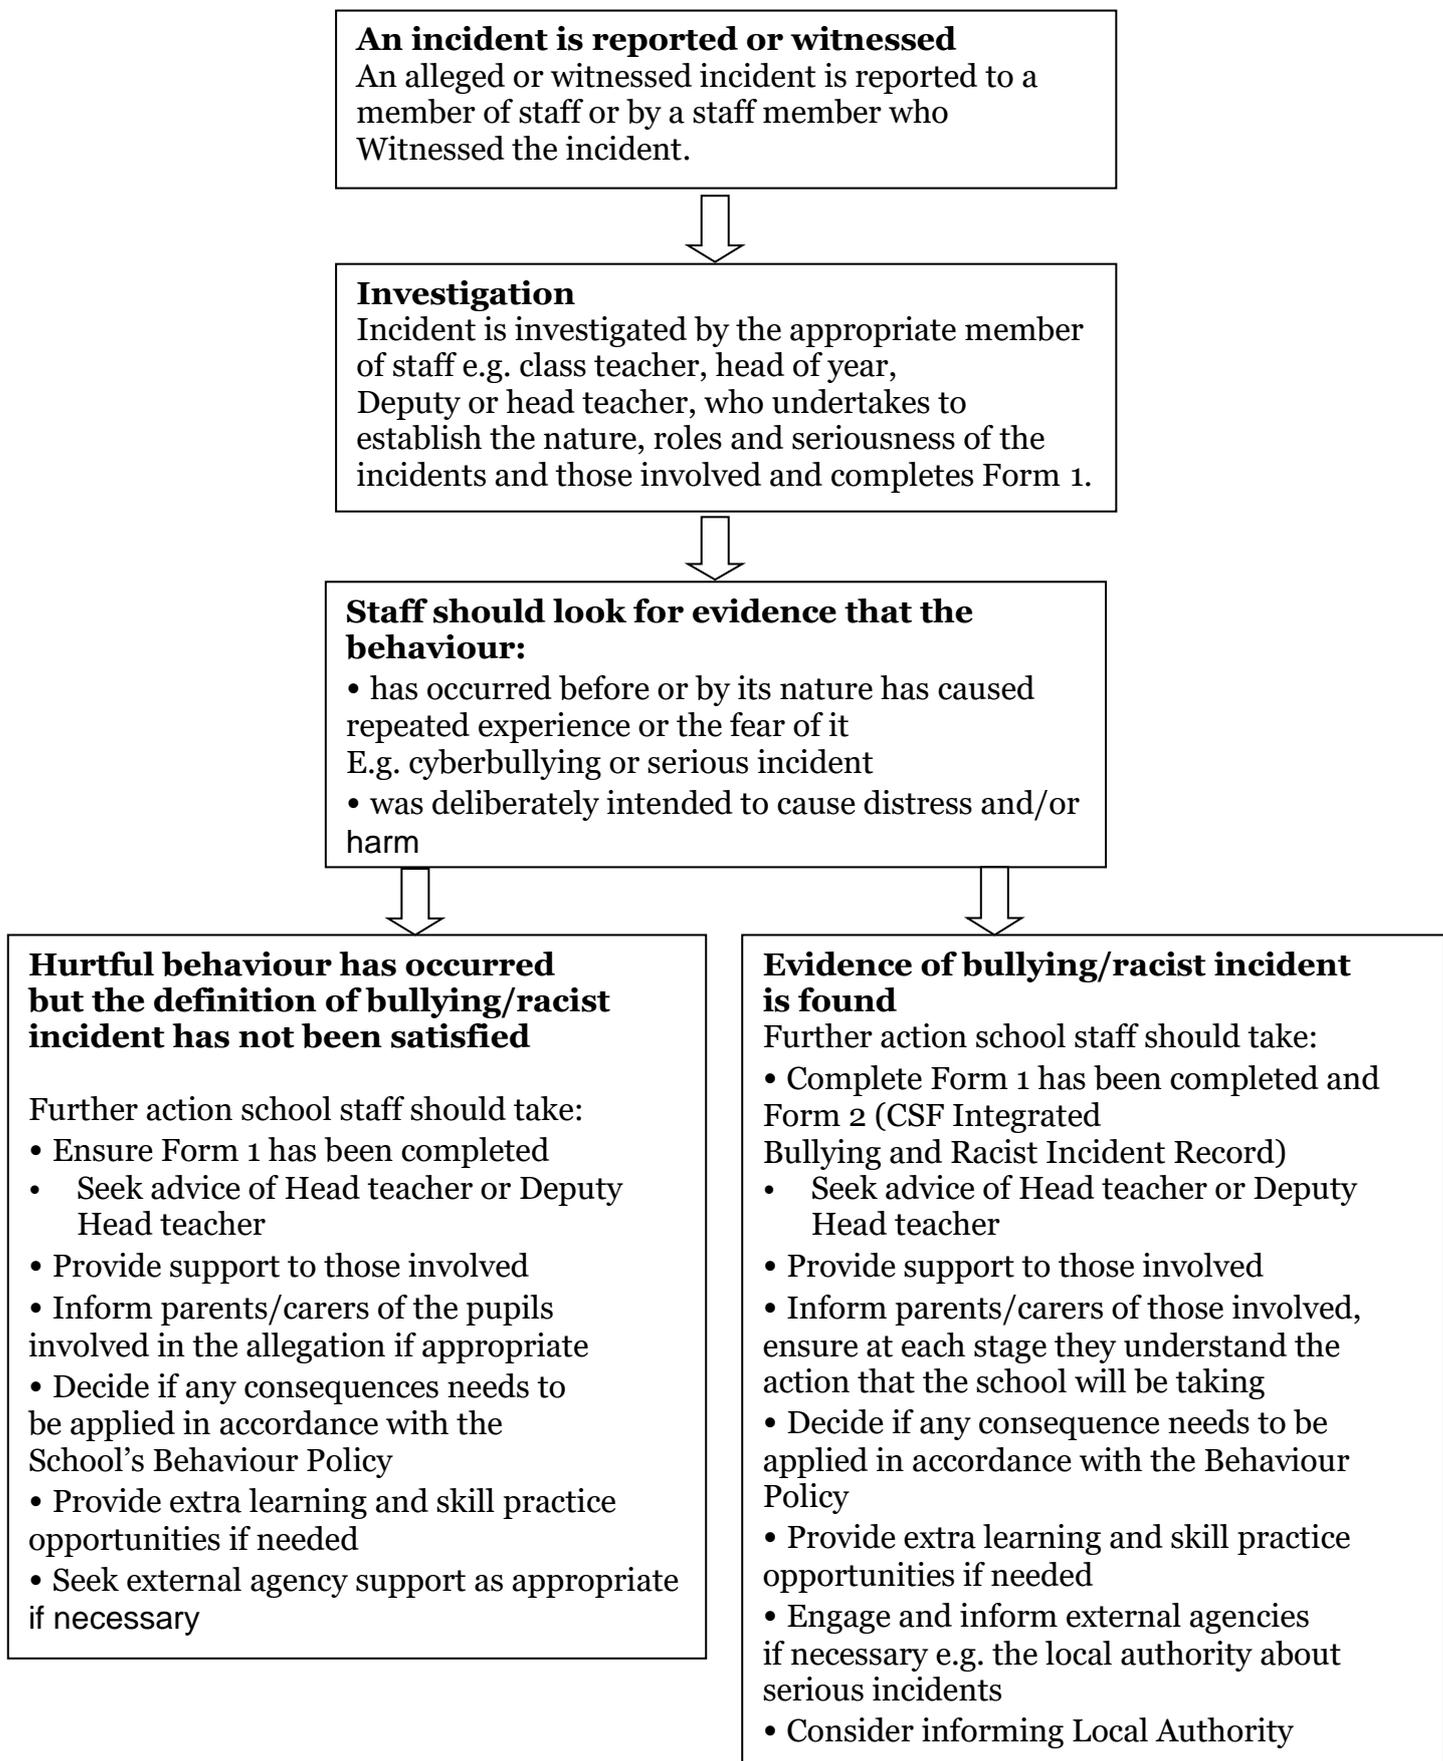

Sources will include:

- Head teacher Governor Report any bullying incidents recorded
- Health Related Pupil Voice Behaviour Questionnaires
- Pupil Interviews and focus groups

11. Incidents of bullying outside school premises

It should be noted that teachers have the power to discipline pupils for misbehaving outside the school premises “to such an extent as is reasonable”. Where bullying outside school is reported to school staff, it will be investigated and acted on. The headteacher should also consider whether it is appropriate to notify the police or anti-social behaviour coordinator in their local authority of the action taken against a pupil. If the misbehaviour could be criminal or poses a serious threat to a member of the public, the police should always be informed. In all cases of misbehaviour or bullying the teacher can only discipline the pupil on school premises or elsewhere when the pupil is under the lawful control of the staff member. Further advice should be sought when dealing with matters of bullying behaviour offsite – reference DFE: Behaviour and discipline in schools Advice for headteachers and School Staff February 2014.

Factors to help determine if incident constitutes bullying

- Incident was bullying (all 3 amber warnings confirmed)
 - Hurt has been deliberately/knowingly caused (physically or emotionally)
 - It is a repeated incident or experience e.g. multiple incidents, cyberbullying or the involvement of a group
 - Involves an imbalance of power:
 - target feels s/he cannot defend her/himself, or
 - Perpetrator/s exploiting their power (size, age, popularity, coolness, abusive language, labelling/name-calling, etc.)
- Incident was not bullying on this occasion because it was
 - the first hurtful incident between these children
 - teasing/banter between friends without intention to cause hurt (should not happen again)
 - falling out between friends after a quarrel, disagreement or misunderstanding
 - conflict that got out of hand (should not happen again)
 - activities that all parties have consented to and enjoyed (check for subtle coercion)
 - got out of hand
 - parental concern
 - Other _____
