

Religious Education

At Manland, we follow the Hertfordshire Agreed Syllabus of Religious Education to plan and teach our RE lessons.

This Agreed Syllabus explains the aims and purposes of Religious Education (RE) for all pupils and specifies for teachers what should be taught in each age group. It provides a coherent framework for setting high standards of learning in RE, enabling pupils to reach their potential in the subject. It parallels the National Curriculum for community schools but is also recommended for Church schools, academies and free schools.

Purpose of Study

The Hertfordshire Agreed Syllabus for RE aims to enable schools to achieve high quality Religious Education for all. Teaching needs to provide pupils with a systematic knowledge and understanding about Christianity, principal religions and worldviews¹, which give life value. RE aims to enable pupils to become religiously and theologically literate so they can engage in life in an increasingly diverse society. It is not about telling pupils what religious views they should have but rather assists them in gaining shared human understanding, developing personal identity and searching for meaning in the context of evaluating different viewpoints.
